Handsome Headquarters to Be Es tablished and a World's Fair Bureau to Be Opened-The Committeemen.

St. Louis grain merchants are making extensive preparations to attend the annual convention of the National Grain Dealers Association, which will convene at Des Moines, Ia., October 2 and continue in ses-

It will be the most important and most generally attended grain dealers' convention ever held in the United States. The association is to be reorganized on the federal plan, taking in all of the State grain dealers' associations throughout the country, and a number of important questions of national scope are to be considered and passed

Among these questions are uniform grain aspection and grading, uniform rules governing trading in grain, better weighing service at terminal points, freight-rate discriminations in favor of markets, firms, corporations and individuals, and a general code of rules looking to uniform conduct in the grain trade.

Chief Grain Inspector W. H. Gooding of Missour; and several of his assistants will be with the St. Louis delegation. They will take with them type samples showing the grading of grain entering St. Louis and othri markets. The St. Louis delegation will travel in Invitations have been sent to hundreds of grain dealers in St. Louis territory inviting them to avail themselves of the opportunity of going with the St. Louis party in its train. Secretary Thomas K. Martin has thus far received about 100 acceptances, and he expects many more.

Officers of the Grain Dealers' National Amsociation are counting on 200 members from St. Louis and near-by points. There is more enthusiasm among local dealers than has ever before been exhibited over a similar event. The same is said to be true of Chicago and other grain centers.

It was announced yesterday that the St. Louis delegation had stolen a march on Chicago in the matter of quarters at Des Moines. The convention will be held in the Auditorium Theater, in which building are several office-rooms. Every one of these have been engaged by the St. Louisans and will be used as the St. Louis headquarters. These will be fitted as reception-rooms and refreshment quarters, besides a World's Fair advartising bureau. A band for the entertainment of all visitors who call upon the St. Louisans will be taken from this city.

The Christian ministers took action yesterday inviting the National Convention of Christian Churches in the United States, which meets at Minneapolis, Minn., October 10. to hold its next meeting in St. Louis in 1932, and the Reverend J. B. Brandt, Doctor J. H. Garrison and W. H. McClain were appointed a committee to present this invitation to the Minneapolis convention.

Action was also taken arranging for a general rally of the Christian Endeavor societies of the Christian Churches of the city, early in October. An invitation was formulated inviting the Reverend Doctor Francis E. Clark, president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, to make addresses. The following were appointed a Special Committee on Programme for the year. Doctor J. H. Garrison, the Reverend Frank G. Tyrrell and the Reverend E. T. McFarland. The Reverend J. T. Boone, paster of the First Christian Church, Jacksonville, Fia., was a visitor at the meeting yesterday.

city. The Bishop spoke of his great love for St. Louis and expressed his gratification at the general prosperity manifested. He also said that he rejoiced in the progress of temperance throughout the country, and commended the effort of the local Church Extension Society in raising the proposed $100,600 for the furtherance of the weaker Methodist churches of the city.

The paper of the day was read by the Reverend H. L. Steves on "Mormonism." in which he called attention to the fact that the Mormon Church had not changed either in doctrine or practice, and that the younger generation were being thoroughly trained in all its peculiar dogmas and practices. He also declared that the Mormon elders now at work in the city were doing everything in their power to plant Mormonism here. He said the ultimate object of the Mormon Church was political power, especially in the States and Territories west of the Rocky Mountains. The Reverend Mr. Steves was for several years a pastor in Sait Lake City, where he had an opportunity for the investigation of Mormonism at short range.

The Presbyterian ministers held a short session yesterday, the Reverend Charles R. Watson presiding and the Reverend C. M. Rauch acting as secretary. The time was spent chiefly in hearing from the churches. The Reverend J. G. Kessler, pastor of the First German Church, stated that the Winnebago Mission, which is under the care of that church, had decided to build the basement of a new church, and which would be read for occupancy by Christmas. Also that the Reverend August Hilkemann of Galena, Ill., had been engaged as pastor, and who would enter upon his work October 1.

the first witness. He was chief engineer of the Pan-American Exposition, and visited the Temple of Music on the day of the crime to take measurements of the posi-tions of articles at the time it occurred. The witness was questioned by the District Attorney. His cross-examination by Lawyer Titus was brief, bringing out that the witness had no personal knowledge of the locations occupied by the various per-sons in the receiving party, but indicated them as he had been told they were placed.

Percy A. Bliss, the second witness, testified that on the day following the crime he had photographed the interior of the Temple of Music, at the District Attorney's reple of Music, at the District Attorney's re-quest. The photographs, which were very large ones, were passed to the defendant's counsel and afterwards to the jurors. Doctor Harvey R. Gaylord of Buffalo was then called, and testified that he performed the autopsy upon the body of President McKinley. He described the location of the wounds in the stomach and the direction of the bullet.
